Paying a Debt of Thanks

I recently began the final year of my last term as President of the Alumni Association. Next June the end of my term will be, in some respects, a fond farewell to a host of fellow Pumas who I have come to know and respect.

I am speaking of the members of the Alumni Board whose names you will find on the masthead to the right of this letter.

These men and women, Pumas all, are the ones who steer the Board, plan the events, cook the brats, serve the refreshments, network with students, call upon fellow alumni, and do it all for the love of their alma mater.

Many of them drive several hours and hundreds of miles, four times a year, to faithfully attend the Saturday Board meetings on campus, where attendance continues to average nearly 90%. Not a one of them receives, or even asks for, a cent of reimbursement for the gallons of gasoline they use on those weekends.

In addition, many volunteer to attend off-campus networking and admissions receptions, staff "College Fairs" at their local high schools, interview candidates for the Senior of the Year Award, solicit and vote on recipients of the Sports Hall of Fame and Alumni Achievement and Service Awards, send notes of prayers and condolences to families and friends of deceased alumni, and give their best to assure the success of Homecoming weekend for their fellow alumni.

To say that I am proud to have known them and grateful for their efforts would be a gross understatement. Each and every one of them gives and serves as living examples of the 'Saint Joe Spirit.'

I would also like to thank and acknowledge Board Executive Director, Kendra Illingworth, and her dedicated staff for their support, patience, and true originality in making our alumni events exciting and fun-filled opportunities whenever and wherever Pumas gather. We, most assuredly, could not do it without them!

During my student days, I would guess that I took little note of what SJC was giving me in the way of an education and life experience. Now that I am older, and hopefully wiser, I am most pleased and grateful for the opportunity to lead the alumni, through the Board, to give back to the College, and take this opportunity to repay an overdue debt of thanks.

Summer Chorus

Takes SJC on a Musical Journey

On July 19th, the 2008 Summer Chorus of the Rensselaer Program of Church Music and Liturgy presented Mass Mosaic: A concert presentation of movements from Masses of various periods. The concert was conducted by SJC Assistant Professor of Music and Choir Director Todd Samra, and accompanied by organ instructor Jill Nennmann and was held in the Saint Joseph's Chapel.

Mass Mosaic was the first Summer Chorus concert to return to Saint Joseph's after being performed off campus for a number of years. "The off campus performances allowed for other parishes and local communities to share in the gifts and talents of the Summer Chorus, however this year the chorus performed a more traditional concert here on campus so that we could re-connect with the Rensselaer community and with the friends and supporters of SJC who live in the region," said Steve Janco, Director of the Rensselaer Program of Church Music and Liturgy.

Mass Mosaic was a musical journey through the Mass and featured eight movements, each from a different Mass, by a different composer. The composers represented a number of musical eras and included well-known names such as Palestrina, Mozart, Schubert, and Fauré. The concert also featured a composition by SJC summer faculty member Dr. John McIntyre.

The Rensselaer Program of Church Music and Liturgy will be celebrating its 50th anniversary with friends and colleagues at the 2010 National Convention of the National Association of Pastoral Musicians (NPM), to be held in Detroit July 12-16, 2010. The Rensselaer Program has always had close ties with NPM. Rev. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S '40, founder of the Rensselaer Program, was one of the founders of NPM, and edited for many years a column in its journal, Pastoral Music. NPM continues to contribute money every year toward a scholarship awarded to a first-year graduate student at SJC. Janco currently serves as a member of the Education Committee of the organization and a number of the Program's alumni currently serve the organization in leadership positions. Many alumni and former faculty members have presented workshops at NPM conventions over the years. Liturgical music and hymn texts written by alumni and faculty members have been used at convention liturgies.

The 2008 Summer Chorus performs Mass Mosaic at the Saint Joseph's Chapel.

SJC Honors

Senior of the Year

On April 25th, during the President's Senior Dinner for the graduating Class of 2008, Joanna Askwith was honored as Senior of the Year for Saint Joseph's College. She was awarded with a personal plaque, and her name was added to the perpetual Senior of the Year plaque listing located in Halleck Student Center.

"It is a great honor to have been nominated and chosen by alumni, professors, and my fellow colleagues to receive an award for service and achievement held in such high esteem," Askwith said. "I am deeply honored by the versatile and effective team that the Class of 2008 has become in all our endeavors at SJC."

The daughter of Nancy and the late James, and great niece of Sr. Patricia Robinson, B.V.M., Askwith is an alumna of Rosary High School in Aurora, Illinois. During her time at Saint Joseph's College, she committed herself to many service and community organizations. The Lisle, Illinois, native was the president of the Science Club and a member of Respect for Life and Habitat for Humanity. As a Chemistry and Biology major, Askwith dedicated much of her free time to the Science Olympiad, serving as the student co-director, as well as volunteering at soup kitchens throughout the academic year.

Since graduating this spring, Askwith has joined fellow SJC grad, Michael A. Evans '67 as a Chemist in the Research and Development/Forensics Department at AIT Laboratories in Indianapolis.

Selection for the Senior of the Year candidates began in January, when members of the senior class voted for three of their classmates. Nominees were required to have a cumulative grade point average of 3.25 (minimum) on a 4.0 scale and completed and passed at least 105 college credit hours.

After the top five vote recipients were named, a selection committee consisting of members of the SJC Alumni Association Board of Directors interviewed each candidate and selected a winner.

Dear Alumni, Parents, and Friends

Now that the new academic year has begun I wanted to let you know directly that I am going to retire at the close of this academic year (June 30, 2009). Liz and I will be moving back to the East Coast to be near our family. When we moved here we had no grandchildren and now we have four little ones. It is time.

The years have gone by quickly and thanks to your remarkable support we have achieved much. Know I am grateful to have had the opportunity to work with all of you. Saint Joseph's College is truly a special place. Because of your efforts the College has a past of excellence and a future of promise.

Liz and I look forward to being with you in the year ahead.

Sincerely,

Ernest R. Mills III
President

Accomplishments of the Mills Era

- Ernest R. Mills III is the second lay president and 16th president of Saint Joseph's College, inaugurated in 2001. Under Mills' leadership, the administration, campus community, and constituents of the College have achieved great success in the transformation and renewal of Saint Joseph's College through increased enrollment and fiscal health.
- June 30, 2008 marked seven consecutive years of a balanced operating budget, including a modest surplus each year.
- Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) enrollment has grown from 847 in Fall 2001 to 1,119 in Fall 2008.
- An average of 4% and 5% raises have been given annually to employees since 2002.
- The College made over $5 million worth of capital improvements and renovations to campus facilities and infrastructure prior to the start of the 21st Century Campaign.
- The 21st Century Campaign began July 1, 2005 with a fundraising goal of $12.5 million and raised over $13.3 million by the campaign's end on June 30, 2008. Attaining and exceeding the fundraising goal allowed the College to secure a $750,000 Challenge Grant from the Kresge Foundation. The 21st Century Campaign was only the third, and the largest, comprehensive capital campaign in the 119-year history of the College.
- The College appropriated $6.8 million of the $12.5 million 21st Century Campaign to new construction and renovation.
- The endowment has grown from $7.9 million in 2002 to $16.2 million as of June 30, 2008.
- Saint Joseph's College investment managers for the endowment now utilize Catholic Social Values for investments of the College.
- Improved fiscal health allowed Saint Joseph's College to capitalize on lower interest rates for long-term debt, saving between $3 to $6 million over the life of the debt to the year 2029. Refinancing in 2004 eliminated former restrictive covenants.
- In 2002, Lilly Endowment unveiled the Initiative to Strengthen Board Commitment and matched, dollar-for-dollar up to $1 million, gifts received from Trustees between March 1, 2002 and December 31, 2002. The College raised over $1 million, with $936,091 in qualifying matching funds.

- Lilly Endowment unveiled the Initiative to Strengthen Philanthropy for Higher Education Institutions. Up to $3.5 million could be matched from June 1, 2002 through December 31, 2003. The College raised $3,515,638, of which $3,427,077 qualified for matching funds.
- A second phase of the Initiative to Strengthen Philanthropy for Higher Education Institutions was unveiled by Lilly Endowment in June 2005, structured as a dollar-for-dollar match up to $1 million for funds raised by December 31, 2006. SJC reached the $1 million goal 14 months ahead of schedule in October 2005.
- Lilly Endowment also awarded a $750,000 grant in 2003 for the Initiative to Promote Opportunity through Educational Collaborations, and a $1 million grant in 2004 for Recruiting and Retaining Intellectual Capital.
- Saint Joseph's College was fully reaccredited for the maximum ten years by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC) of the North Central Association (regional accrediting body) in November 2004. The National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) – the gold standard for accreditation in teacher education – awarded SJC in October 2005 with an “unconditional” accreditation, the highest rating an institution can achieve. The College also achieved first-time specialized accreditation in Business (International Assembly for Collegiate Business Education [IACBE]) in January 2008 and Nursing (National League for Nursing [NLN] through St. Elizabeth School of Nursing).
- A College-wide strategic planning process was implemented to help chart SJC's destiny and deploy resources to the best advantage. The first five-year plan was published April 30, 2004 (2004-2009); the College is operating from the second five-year plan (2007-2012) and is in the initial planning stages for the third edition. The planning process used so impressed the Higher Learning Commission, Saint Joseph's College was asked to display its Strategic Plan at the 2005 Annual Conference of the HLC.
- The Office of Admissions adapted a conventional model for admissions evaluation called the Total Admissions Score (TAS), a system that awards points for applicant performance on standardized tests, high school grades, class rank, and extracurricular activities. The College now gathers data to quantify applicant data, justify admissions decisions, and predict student success through the TAS system.
- On average, 96% of the graduating class (survey respondents) is employed within 12 months of graduation.
- While Chair of the Independent Colleges of Indiana (ICI) Board from 2006-2007, lobbying efforts were successful in securing funding for the “last-mile connection” to I-Light II (the state's higher education fiber optic network) and becoming one of the nation's top states in grant funding for students through the State Student Assistance Commission of Indiana (SSACI).

Norbert Krapf

'65 Chosen as New State Poet Laureate

The Indiana Arts Commission (IAC) has selected Indianapolis resident Norbert Krapf '65 as the Indiana State Poet Laureate.

Krapf, a native of Jasper, Indiana, is a graduate of Saint Joseph's College's Class of 1965, and received his M.A. and Ph.D. in English from the University of Notre Dame. He was selected from a field of 19 poets nominated early this year for the two-year appointment. The Poet Laureate selection committee comprised of faculty representing seven Indiana higher education

10 institutions recommended Krapf's nomination to the Commission for approval at its quarterly meeting in Fort Wayne.

"I am moved and honored to be named Indiana Poet Laureate," Krapf said. "This is the right time for me to make a contribution to the life of poetry in our state. I wish that my Indiana-loving parents were still alive to savor the unexpected honor."

When Krapf moved from Indiana to the New York area in 1970 he began to trace his family history, study German, and write poems. He taught at the C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University, and directed the C.W. Post Poetry Center. He twice served in Germany as a Senior Fulbright Professor of American Poetry, and he was also a U.S. Exchange Teacher at West Oxon Technical College, England.

Since 1976, Krapf has written or edited 21 books, two of which are his translations from German. This fall, IU Press will release his latest work, Bloodroot: Indiana Poems, a selection of 175 poems written between 1971 and 2007. In 2007, Acme Records of Bloomington, Indiana released Norbert Krapf and jazz pianist-composer Monika Herzig's CD Imagine - Indiana in Music and Words. Recently the Indiana Historical Society Press released Krapf's prose memoir, The Ripest Moments: A Southern Indiana Childhood.

"All these projects have deepened my contact with the landscape and the people that figure in so many of my poems," Krapf said.

Krapf will represent the State of Indiana and the art of poetry through the development and implementation of programming to the education community and general public. The Poet Laureate makes formal presentations at various educational facilities and offers advice to the Commission concerning ways to further the art of poetry in Indiana. Krapf's term as Indiana Poet Laureate begins immediately and will continue through calendar year 2009.

The Poet Laureate selection committee included representatives from Indiana University, Ball State, Purdue, Valparaiso, DePauw, Indiana State University, Butler, and the University of Southern Indiana.

Increasing the awareness of poetry and the power of written and spoken verse was the inspiration for legislation signed into law in 2005 by Governor Mitch Daniels.

Sponsored by Sen. Teresa Lubbers (R-Indianapolis) and Earline Rogers (D-Gary), the Poet Laureate legislation provides for the development of specific educational programming coordinated between the Indiana Arts Commission, the Indiana Department of Education, and the State Poet Laureate.

A reception in Krapf's honor was held on August 25th and was sponsored by the Prairie Arts Council and the SJC English Department.

The White House on Park Avenue Reopens Its Doors to the SJC Community

The White House on Park Avenue Bed and Breakfast has returned to the Rensselaer area. SJC Associate Professors of Communication and newlyweds, Fred and Sally (Nesselrode) Berger have purchased the bed and breakfast and have reopened it for business for the first time since 2003. Built in 1891 by the Kannal family, the Bergers are only the third owners of the home in 117 years. When presented with this new venture, the Bergers felt that they were up for the challenge. "Every time we visited the house we felt comfortable, at peace and welcomed. We left feeling as if we could do this and be successful inn-keepers," said Fred.

The couple welcomed their first overnight guests on July 18th and an official ribbon cutting ceremony was held on August

8th. As for learning the ropes of their new business, Sally states that, "meeting new people, hearing stories and sharing recipes is the most rewarding, but figuring out how to do it while teaching full time will be the most challenging."

Both professors plan to continue with their teaching duties at the College and believe that the SJC community will play a large part in their success. "Our hope is to become a fixture for friends and family of SJC as a place to stay that is more than just a place to rest your head," said the Bergers.

For more information on the White House on Park Avenue visit www.whitehouseonpark.com or call (219)866-BEDS (2337).

The 38th Infantry

A Reflection on Iraq

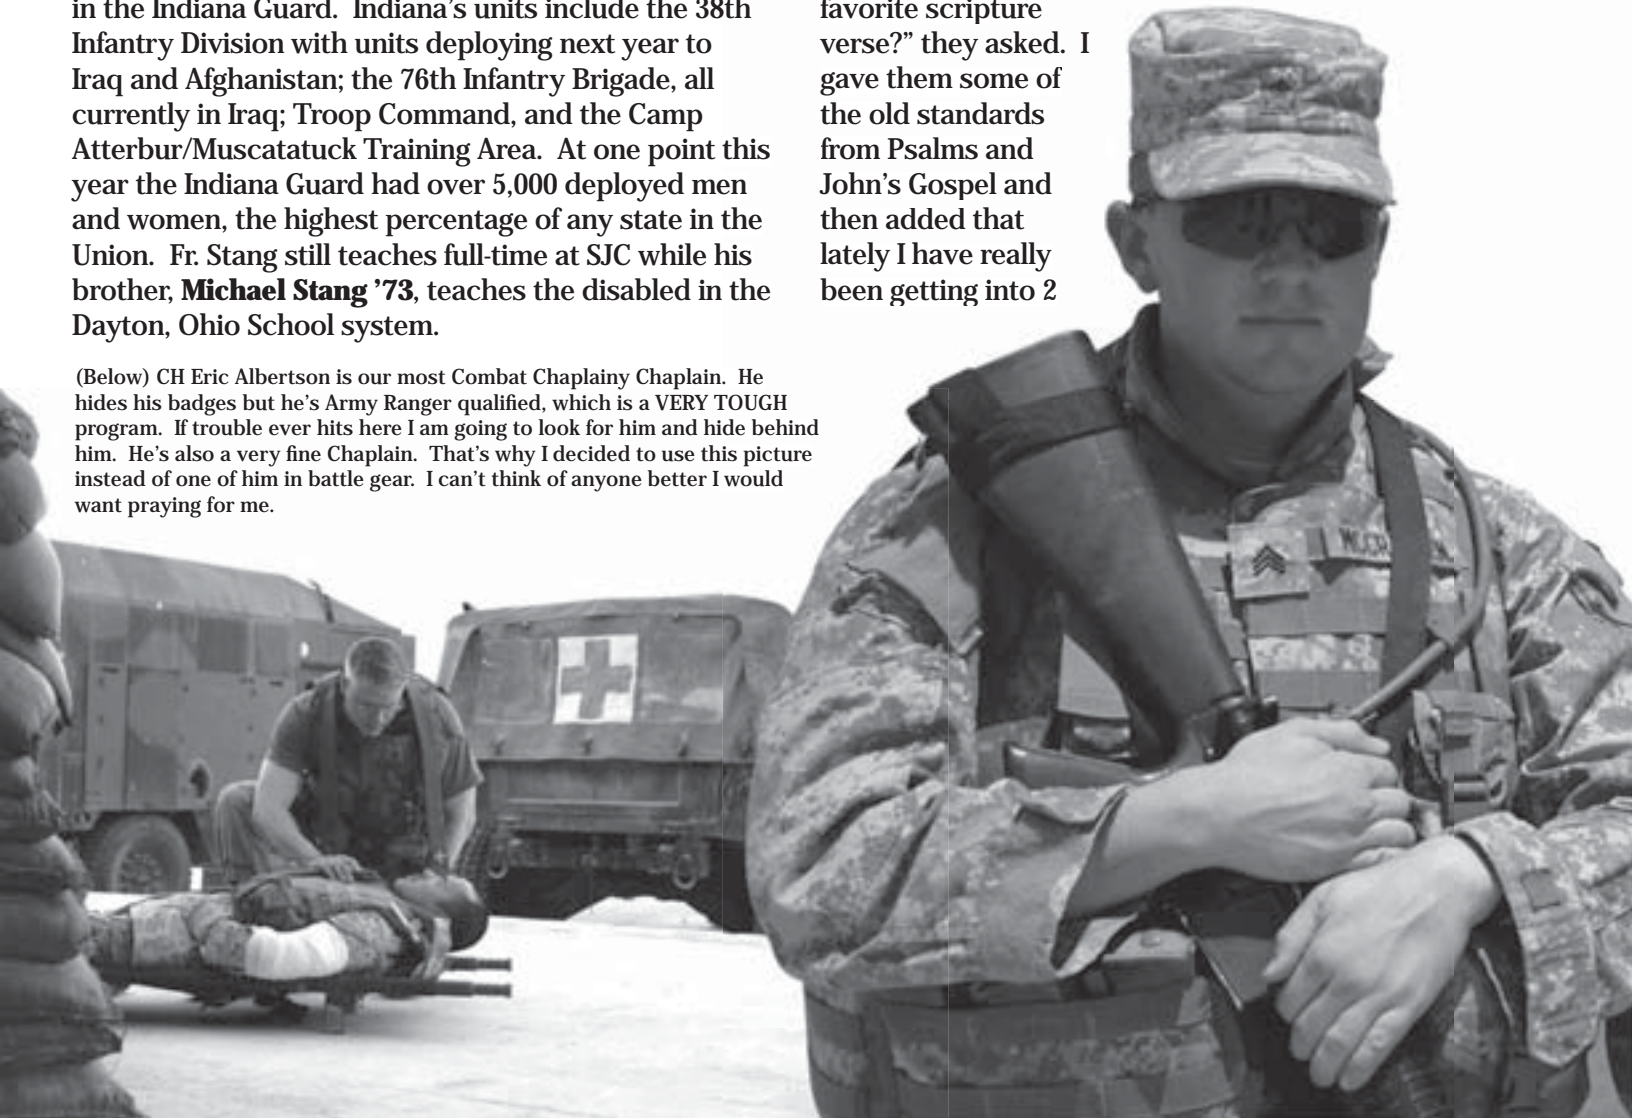

The following is an excerpt from the diary of Fr. William Stang, C.P.P.S. '72, SJC Professor of Biology and Division Chaplain of the 38th Infantry, while he was stationed in Iraq:

12 Fr. William Stang, C.P.P.S. '72, faculty member at Saint Joseph's College since 1977, has been in the United States Army Indiana Army National Guard since 1986. Since 2001 he has several times been mobilized into the Regular Army and deployed to Kosovo, Bosnia, Hurricane Katrina, and most recently to Iraq. In 2006 The Adjutant General for Indiana named Fr. Stang as State Chaplain for the Indiana Army and Air National Guard. In a 2007 ceremony he was promoted to full Colonel. His father, James Stang '50, was also honored at the ceremony for his service in World War II. As State Chaplain, Fr. Stang advises the Adjutant General and his staff on religion and morals. He also supervises Indiana's military Chaplains, Chaplain Assistants, and Chaplain Candidates while serving as top Chaplain for the over 11,000 soldiers and airmen in the Indiana Guard. Indiana's units include the 38th Infantry Division with units deploying next year to Iraq and Afghanistan; the 76th Infantry Brigade, all currently in Iraq; Troop Command, and the Camp Atterbur/Muscatatuck Training Area. At one point this year the Indiana Guard had over 5,000 deployed men and women, the highest percentage of any state in the Union. Fr. Stang still teaches full-time at SJC while his brother, Michael Stang '73, teaches the disabled in the Dayton, Ohio School system.

(Below) CH Eric Albertson is our most Combat Chaplain. He hides his badges but he's Army Ranger qualified, which is a VERY TOUGH program. If trouble ever hits here I am going to look for him and hide behind him. He's also a very fine Chaplain. That's why I decided to use this picture instead of one of him in battle gear. I can't think of anyone better I would want praying for me.

For relief I went outside into the skillet of the rocky marshalling yard. I saw a Hummer with its door open and the motor running, and I wondered who was braving the noonday sun. I found three young soldiers who proclaimed themselves the tip of the spear for an upcoming patrol. They were SPC Hill, 2LT Stanley and 2LT Saunders. I'd not yet had a tour of an "up armored humvee" sporting a turret, so I asked them, "How's it work?" SPC Hill must have encountered ignorant Colonels in the past because he did not hesitate to demonstrate the workings of his turret. As he whirled in his armored box, he explained the action in a way that even I could understand. I commented on the heat and asked if they had AC in their hummer before I realized it would all go out the open hole of the turret. We laughed about "Only mad dogs and Englishmen go out in the noonday sun," and joked that Rudyard Kipling would have added "and Americans in body armor."

Emboldened, 2LTs Stanley and Saunders changed the subject and turned the tables on me. "What is your favorite scripture verse?" they asked. I gave them some of the old standards from Psalms and John's Gospel and then added that lately I have really been getting into 2

Timothy Chapter 4: "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith. Therefore a merited crown awaits me..." I loved the reply one gave me. "That's pretty much for the end of things. I like something for the here and now."

So he went on to quote "Put on the armor of God so that you may be able to stand firm against the tactics of the devil. Use righteousness and faith as a shield." He admitted his quotation wasn't perfect, and he thought it might be from Corinthians. His brother Lieutenant filled in the verses and informed us both that it was Ephesians. I looked it up. It is Ephesians 6:10-17 and reads, "Finally, draw your strength from the Lord and from his mighty power. Put on the armor of God so that you may be able to stand firm against the tactics of the devil. For our struggle is not with flesh and blood but ... against the powers of this present darkness and against the spiritual forces of evil. Therefore, put on the armor of God that you may be able to resist on the evil day and, having done everything, to hold your ground. So stand fast with your loins girded in truth, clothed with righteousness as a breastplate, and your feet shod in readiness for the gospel of peace. In all circumstances, hold faith as a shield, to quench the flaming arrows of the evil one. And take the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God."

To further show his biblical prowess he gave us his favorite quote. "And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes; and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them." I mentioned it sounded like he had liked the movie "Pulp Fiction" and he laughed and admitted he'd seen it a few times. Not wanting me to think him a heathen, he then added, "I think it's a quote from Isaiah." His friend who had been wrong about Corinthians vs. Ephesians jumped in and said, "It's from Ezekiel, and Samuel Jackson adds some words that aren't in the Bible." I looked that up and found the quote was Ezekiel 25:17. The writers of "Pulp Fiction" had added "The path of the righteous man is beset on all sides by the iniquities of the selfish and the tyranny of evil men..." At this point I was humbled. I had made the mistake I'd warned others against; I'd underestimated the American soldier. My main feeling, though, was delight. I almost felt a part of a biblical style verse, "I walked out into the heat of the day and found diamonds where I expected only stones."

All too soon it was time to go. As we flew over night-time Iraq, I was struck by how similar it was to flying over Indiana at night. You can't make out the shape of roofs or the type of trees. You cannot see that it is sand instead of grass. You just see family homes with lights shining through the windows. There were the familiar scattered farmhouses with every now and then the small groups that signified towns. There were the highways each with its string of white and red lights as people drove home to their families for the night. Something was different, though. First I realized there were no neon lights; no gas stations or convenience stores along the roads. Then I noticed there were no street lights lining the roads through towns. Lastly I became aware of the absence of aircraft. Flying with our Aviation Brigade at night you are always close enough to Indianapolis to see the airliners heading to and from the Indianapolis Airport. And, unless the weather is very bad, there is a collection of private planes with their running lights blinking in the night sky. The difference is that Indiana is prosperous and not at war.

C.P.P.S. Anniversaries

The Missionaries of the Precious Blood are pleased to announce the 40th anniversary of the religious profession of Br. Timothy Hemm, C.P.P.S. '70, the 25th anniversary of the ordination of Fr. Timothy McFarland, C.P.P.S. '78, and the 65th anniversary of the ordination of Fr. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S. '40.

Br. Tim, 60, a native of Piqua, Ohio, entered the Society in 1961 and was professed a brother on August 15, 1968. He has been active in education ministry for many years.

Br. Timothy Hemm, C.P.P.S. '70

Br. Tim first taught at St. Joseph School in Wapakoneta, Ohio, before being assigned in 1972 to SJC. He has been a part of campus life at Saint Joseph's ever since, performing many functions at the College. Currently, he is a campus minister and is the local C.P.P.S. director at the College.

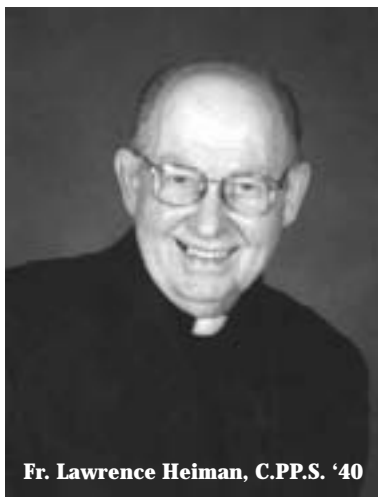

Fr. McFarland, 52, a native of Ottawa, Ohio, entered the Society in 1970 and was ordained on June 18, 1983. He has been involved in education ministry for many years.

Fr. Timothy McFarland, C.P.P.S. '78

After his ordination Fr. McFarland served as Associate Pastor at St. John the Baptist Church in Whiting, Ind., before he returned to SJC as the Director of Formation for C.P.P.S. students. Since then he has been an important part of the life of the College, now serving as an Associate Professor of Religion and Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs. He also assists with Campus Ministry.

Fr. Heiman, 90, a native of Decatur, Ind., entered the Society in 1932 and was ordained on December 5, 1943. Fr. Heiman is a musician and a teacher.

Fr. Lawrence Heiman, C.P.P.S. '40

After his ordination, Fr. Heiman was sent to SJC as a professor of Music and Theatre. There he spent his life as a priest, teaching countless young people to praise God through song. He was instrumental in establishing an advanced music degree program at the College. In addition to his teaching duties through the year, he directed the Rensselaer Program of Church Music and Liturgy for more than 30 years. In 2007, after 63 years of campus life, Fr. Heiman retired to St. Charles Center.

These anniversaries, along with the milestone anniversaries of 12 other Missionaries of the Precious Blood of the Cincinnati Province, signifying hundreds of years of ministerial service to God's people, were celebrated in a special liturgy on July 1 at St. Charles Center.

"These men made a commitment long ago to serve the people of God, and that commitment has never faded," said Fr. Angelo Anthony, C.P.P.S. '84, Provincial Director of the Cincinnati Province of the Missionaries of the Precious Blood. "We thank God for the example that they give us, and we look forward to celebrating their lives of service, which have brought so much good to so many."

The Missionaries of the Precious Blood is a religious society of priests, brothers and lay associates founded in 1815 by St. Gaspar del Bufalo. Society members work as missionaries in parishes in the U.S. and abroad, in education and in a wide range of apostolates, promoting the cause of God's reconciliation worldwide by proclaiming the Word.

One Drop of the Blood of Jesus

One drop will save the world from sin. That's the reason Fr. Leonard Kostka, C.P.P.S. '35 decided to create a "One Drop" cross. Available as a pin or necklace, it serves as a reminder that one drop of the blood of Jesus can save the world from sin. "We get so used to the Eucharist, we need a pinprick sometimes to revive our devotion," he said.

The lapel pin or necklace consists of a sterling silver Celtic cross with an almandine garnet in the center. Fr. Kostka consulted Rensselaer silversmith and St. Augustine parishioner Lana Zimmer. They decided they liked the Celtic cross and she developed the design. A company custom casts the cross and she assembles the parts. Zimmer, an Assistant Professor of Education at SJC, said about 150 people around the country have one of the crosses. Father Kostka said at least one priest in Africa has one, also.

The crosses, which went on sale in December 2006, symbolize, in a world where "the more violent the better," the one drop needed to clean it from all the "garbage," Fr. Kostka said. Because symbols speak better than words, he decided to dramatize it. He wanted to use a ruby instead of a garnet, but the cost would be prohibitive.

He stressed the sacrifice Christ made, citing the hymn Adoro Te Devote, in which St. Thomas Aquinas refers to Jesus as a loving pelican. "Pelicans were once thought to feed their blood to their young by piercing their own breasts."

Fr. Kostka said the hymn has the theme that one drop is ransom for the entire world's guilt. The reason it's called "most precious blood" instead of simply "precious blood" is not only because of its ability to nourish and cleanse, but especially because of its divine origin, the God-Man.

The crosses cost $48, which covers materials and labor. Fr. Kostka, who said he's never done something like this before, doesn't receive any money from the crosses and hasn't tried to advertise them much.

Betty Tonner, a parishioner at St. Augustine, Rensselaer and Fellow of SJC, said she first heard about the cross at a Precious Blood Companion meeting at which Fr. Kostka talked about his idea. "That idea sort of stuck with me," she said. She bought one that year and the next Christmas bought five more for her daughters-in-law and her daughter. She said the cross has grown to have a special place in her heart and she wears it everywhere. When she's at Mass she holds onto it when the wine is consecrated, hoping for a special connection to the blood of Christ and for special blessings. "It just rings a bell in my heart," she said. She also treasures the cross because of her admiration for Fr. Kostka.

Core & Catholic Higher Education

Since the 1980s and continuing to the present day, the SJC Core Curriculum has played a prominent role in national discussions and projects on general education. John Nichols, SJC Professor of Philosophy and National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) Distinguished Teaching Professor, has been a participant in four key projects and was the national director for one particularly significant one for the Association of American Colleges and Universities (AACU). Recent publications from AACU (2004) and the Association for General and Liberal Studies (2006) contain large portions that were authored at SJC.

Although Core was inspired by Vatican II in its origins and has been thoroughly dedicated to implementing the Council's and Pope John Paul's

16 desire for dialogue between the Gospel and contemporary culture, it was only in 2005 that Saint Joseph's participated in any high level meetings in Catholic higher education. That year Monika Hellwig arranged for Nichols to make two presentations at the annual meeting of the Association of Catholic Colleges and Universities (ACCU), because she was convinced that all Catholic colleges needed to imitate how Core makes the institutional mission real. All readers of Contact, of course, know that her judgment was strongly confirmed in Dennis O'Brien's 2008 article in Commonweal.

To follow up on that article, Dr. Nichols secured a grant to fund an on-campus workshop on "Doing Catholic Higher Education." In planning the workshop, Nichols' goal was to convene key people from other Catholic institutions to explore the range of possibilities in general education for promoting and achieving institutional missions. A total of 43 people representing 10 different Catholic colleges and universities attended the workshop, and evaluated it very favorably. "During the three days of conversation at Saint Joseph's College, we were able to set aside the distractions of the world and the 'busy-ness' of conventional conferences in order to consider what lies at the heart of a Catholic liberal arts education. I left renewed and profoundly changed," said Andrea Beranek, Associate Vice President of Learning Services and Assessment at Carlow University.

Presenters at the workshop included Fr. Robert Schreiter, C.P.P.S. '68, from the Chicago Theological Union, Sandra Estanek, Director of the Association for Student Affairs at Catholic Colleges and Universities at Canisius College, Dennis O'Brien, President Emeritus of the University of Rochester, and Nichols.

The workshop just scratched the surface of this rich and important topic. It became very clear by the end of the sessions that these institutions wanted to do much more to develop the possibilities in general education and in collaborations between academics, campus ministry, and student affairs to achieve institutional mission. General education likewise represents the single best opportunity on campus to get a large majority of the faculty involved in mission.

What was also abundantly clear is that these colleges were looking to Saint Joseph's to lead them in a more expanded project in exploring relationships between institutional mission and general education outcomes, curriculum, pedagogy, and assessment. John Nichols has sought and received ACCU support for this project, most importantly as an agency for distributing its envisioned publication on "Effective Practices in General Education at Catholic Colleges and Universities." Obviously, some additional grants are likewise on the agenda.

From past to present to future, the influence of the SJC Core Curriculum on both national (for 25+ years) and specifically Catholic (since 2005) higher education is singularly impressive.

The SJC breakout group discusses how to implement the principles highlighted at the conference on campus.

Guatemala Mission Trip: A Life-Changing Experience

Students at Saint Joseph's College have long been recognized for their kindness and generosity towards their classmates and their communities. This past May, some of these students took part in a life-changing experience. Not only did it have an effect on the students, but on two very needy families in Guatemala. On May 10th, the group of Saint Joseph's College students set off for Guatemala for ten days. Their first and last nights were spent in Antigua, or the "walled" city, in southern Guatemala. The other eight days were spent working in and around the town of Tecpan, located between Antigua and Lake Atitlan. Guatemala was a new and strange place that the group had to adjust to. As Melinda Maile '07, a Biology/Chemistry major from Grand Rapids, Michigan described in her journal: "There was a lot of traffic in Guatemala City with mopeds cutting between lanes of cars, an ancient aqueduct to one side of the street and an array of colorful stores and music playing on the other; it was obvious we weren't in the USA." While there, they spent the majority of their time building a new house for two different families: one for Noel and Maria Victoria and the other for a man named Isaac and his family. "We brought them extreme hope," said Jessica Conlin, a senior Elementary Education major from Aurora, Illinois. "The most rewarding thing is seeing the smiles. I learned how Americans have so much. These families didn't focus on what they had."

SJC Associate Professor of Communication Fred Berger led the team of ten students to the mountains just outside Guatemala City with the goal of building two new homes. Students spent the day laying bricks and mixing concrete as they constructed the new houses. The group experienced a great deal of setbacks and a lot of frustration, but in the end it was well worth it. "We woke up at 7 a.m. and ate breakfast," Conlin said. "We started working at 8 a.m. and worked until 1 p.m. We then ate lunch and kept working until 4:30 p.m. Then we shared our journals with each other." The journals contained reflections about the day's events from each member of the group, and these went together to form a daily "team" journal. "They then share with the people there," Berger said. "Someone would read one from the previous day that someone else had written. It gets emotional." One such story involved Noel and Maria's son Javier, whose soccer ball was run over by the shuttle driver and ruined. The boy was crushed, but Kevin Craney a junior majoring in Business Administration from Ft. Wayne, Indiana managed to surprise him with a new one the very next day. The boy threw his arms around Kevin's neck in joy. Moments like this made the trip so worthwhile and enjoyable.

SJC will host another trip to Rocky Mount, N.C., over Thanksgiving break in November 2008. This will be the 10th trip to the area to help rebuild houses that were damaged by previous hurricanes in 1999. "We don't go for ourselves," Berger said. "There's so much need in the world. We do it to help others, bottom line."

College Fund Honor Roll of Donors

In the pages that follow, you will find the Honor Roll of Donors listing the College Fund supporters from July 1, 2007, through June 30, 2008. While club levels (e.g., President's Circle, Father Banet Club, etc.) are reserved for College Fund (unrestricted general annual fund) supporters, the class listings also include alumni contributors to the 21st Century Campaign. A separate, comprehensive capital campaign report listing all campaign contributors from July 1, 2005 through June 30, 2008 will be delivered in Fall 2008.

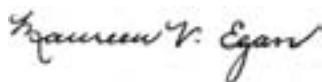

We are pleased to report an alumni donor participation rate of 27% for fiscal year 2007-2008. That was the goal for this year, up from 24% last fiscal year while on our quest to reach 30% by the year 2012. Keep up the great work, Pumas!

Employees (current; former, yet within the fiscal year; and retirees) who contributed this year totaled 224 people and performed at over 85% donor participation. That figure is up from 77% last year. What wonderful role models we have in our campus community.

Heartfelt thanks to the many contributors who joined in our fundraising efforts this year – whether in support of the College Fund or the 21st Century Campaign. In the end, it's all about support of Saint Joseph's College.

- 18 If, by our error, your name did not get listed – we offer our apologies and ask that you contact us at (800)227-1898 or e-mail mo@saintjoe.edu.

21st Century Capital Campaign Exceeds Goal!

The Saint Joseph's College 21st Century Campaign: Preserving Tradition...Securing Our Future met its $12.5 million goal with room to spare. Campaign leadership and staff with dedicated focus hit the June 30 deadline with gifts and pledges sufficient to meet the campaign goal and qualify SJC for the $750,000 Kresge Challenge Grant. Gifts and pledges now total over $13.3 million at the closing of the campaign books on July 31, making this campaign the most successful fundraising effort in the College's history. "Together we have done something extraordinary for Saint Joseph's College," said SJC President Ernest Mills III, expressing his delight and thanks to alumni, parents, and friends of SJC who made gifts or pledges. "Thank you for helping us 'secure our future.'"

The success of the capital campaign allowed SJC to complete three major capital priorities: the academic centers, including the Arts and Science Building's, Robinson Memorial Library and the Theatre, and updated technology in the Rev. Charles Banet, C.P.P.S. Core Education Center; the athletic facilities, including the Fieldhouse, the football field and stadium, and the Hanson Recreation Center; and Noll Residence Hall. These capital improvements were complemented by increased dollars to the College's endowment funds to support scholarships (Founder's Fund) and on-going work on the Chapel Complex.

Campaign Chairman Jim Madden '64 trusted in the vision of the campaign, the leadership of the College, and the commitment of the SJC community to rise to the challenge. "Our success with this campaign comes from the strong efforts, leadership, and commitment of our Trustees and Campaign Leadership Committee combined with the dedication and sacrifice of our alumni and friends," said Madden. "Together we made it happen."

In the 119-year history of Saint Joseph's College only three comprehensive capital campaigns have been conducted: Renewal in the early 1980s; Centennial in 1989; and this 21st Century Campaign. "What sets this campaign apart—and what makes me most proud—is the level of donor participation," said Vice President of Institutional Advancement and Marketing Maureen Egan '90. "We more than doubled our number of contributors to the 21st Century Campaign from those who participated in the Centennial Campaign." This campaign has again proven that it takes all sizes of gifts and pledges to make a campaign succeed. "We are grateful to everyone who offered their support and prayers," Egan added.

(Below) On June 12, 2008 a multi-purpose room in the Robinson Memorial Library was dedicated in honor of former Geology professor Michael Davis. Generous contributions from Margaret "Peggy" Guccione '69 and Michael Guccione '69 along with numerous alumni, parents, and friends of SJC will allow this room to be a constant reminder of Davis' dedication to his students during his time at SJC.

(Above) A Puma statue was dedicated in honor of Denise Torbet '71 (Far Left) on June 7th. The bronze mascot was commissioned by Orvall McCleary and was welcomed to the SJC campus with many McCleary/Torbet family and friends in attendance. Torbet is a native of Rensselaer and recently retired from teaching first grade at Van Rensselaer Elementary School.

A statue memorializing St. Katharine Drexel was dedicated on June 8 at Saint Joseph's College. The statue is located on the walkway between the Arts and Science Building and the tennis courts. It was commissioned by James '61 and Esther McMahon. Sculptor Don Wilkins of North Fort Myers, Fla. created the statue with the intention to make it as life-like as possible. Fr. Len Kostka, C.P.P.S. '35 blesses the new statue of St. Katharine Drexel located in the Library Grove.

Men's Basketball Preview

After another tournament appearance the Saint Joseph's College men's basketball team enters the 2008-2009 season with something more to prove. After a stellar recruiting class and the return of senior leader Brandon Mayse and sophomore captain Mike Horton, the Pumas are looking to make an impact on the Great Lakes Valley Conference and the post season. "We have high expectations," said head coach Richard Davis. We have a solid nucleus of guys that all now have tournament experience," continued Coach Davis referring to last season's NCAA first round loss to Grand Valley State. Collectively, the Pumas want to improve on last season's 18-12 record, win both the Great Lakes Valley Conference East Division and the GLVC tournament; moreover, earn a spot in the NCAA tournament and advance.

The Pumas did lose two offensive scorers in Ronald Coleman and Devin Thomas but there is not a concern on replacing their 29 points per game. Coach Davis has been emphasizing to his team that it's time for them to take their moment. SJC's roster includes experienced players and talented freshman that will have more opportunities to put points on the board. However, the identity of the Pumas will continue to be on the defensive end. "Our goal is to be top ten in the country in defense," said Coach Davis.

With a deep rotation that goes 11 players deep, the philosophy is play 40 minutes of stifling defense. The more versatility a player has, the more likely he will see game minutes.

One of the biggest messages the coaching staff relays to their team is that even if you are on the floor for a few minutes, play hard. "In order to be a fast break team, we need to be solid defensively. Get steals, get stops, and get out and run," said Coach Davis.

Running the point this season will be Horton, who was inserted in the starting line up last season in an effort to have better scoring on the bench, has proven to be a great leader and is embracing his role. The versatile red shirt freshman Phillip Collins will also see time at the point, along with junior Andrew Helmer, whose knowledge of the offense is a proven asset.

The deepest position on the team is probably the wing, led by senior captain Will Jones who brings stability to the position and role on the team. Jones, truly growing in his role with the Pumas, understands the philosophy of working hard on defense and making open shots, while freshmen Jason Chorba and Henry Smith bring speed, athleticism and scoring to the role. Junior Austin Peebles will round out the quartet of wing players.

"The deeper you are the better you are," Coach Davis said.

The post play will feature a familiar face in Brandon Mayse. Playing in the system for four years, Mayse remembers all the success the Pumas experienced in the past years. A true competitor, Mayse has become focused on his leadership role for this year's squad.

Complementing Mayse is the Pumas' high energy player from a year ago senior A.J. Mahar. Possibly the best defender on the team, Mahar provides great strength in guarding the interior.

SJC Welcomes New Coaches

Saint Joseph's College Head Baseball Coach Rick O'Dette '99 welcomes two new assistant baseball coaches Josh Rabe and Jake Tenhouse. Both Rabe and Tenhouse are accustomed to the Great Lakes Valley Conference, being former players at Quincy University.

Rabe attended Quincy from 1998-2000 before being drafted in the 11th round by the Minnesota Twins. Throughout his career in the Twins organization, Rabe, earned All-Star honors in the Florida State League, New Britain (AA), and Rochester (AAA) before being promoted to Major League Baseball in June of 2006. He finished the season batting .286 for a Twins team that won the American League Central Division. The following 2007 season, Rabe returned to the Twins four games into the season where he played until shoulder surgery ended his season in early June.

Rabe ended his career with the Camden Riversharks of the Atlantic League. His professional career spanned nine years before back injuries ended his playing days. Rabe is a 2007 inductee to the Great Lakes Valley Conference Hall of Fame and earned a bachelor's from Quincy University in Political Science this past May.

Women's Basketball Preview

The Saint Joseph's College women's basketball team enters a new season refreshed and ready to play. First Assistant/Interim Head Coach Brandon Turner '06 takes over a determined group ready to take perhaps the first step back to the dominance the program relished nearly 15 years ago.

Coach Turner, a 2006 alumnus of SJC, was the second assistant for last year's men's team, feels blessed to get an opportunity to be a head coach. Although it is a new challenge, he is embracing the opportunity. "I personally have high expectations," said Coach Turner. "The team looks better talent-wise than last year and I am comfortable with their abilities," Coach Turner continued. The Great Lakes Valley Conference has a reputation of being the toughest NCAA Division II conference in the country and with defending National Champion Northern Kentucky, that reputation is only strengthened.

Turner is still in the "feeling out process" but likes this year's roster of players. He explained that the group has good heads on their shoulders and will put SJC on track to respectability. "One step at a time, build team chemistry, develop work ethic, establish the right attitude, and tackle each challenge one step at a time," Coach Turner said.

Having played under former SJC Coach Linc Darner, Turner is instilling the same style of play with some modifications. The philosophy will continue to be looking to push the pace on the floor and looking to run when the opportunities are available. Turner plans to extend the floor through relentless pressure defense and adapt the style of play to fit against the competition.

The Pumas bring in a number of freshmen that will solidify their roster starting with their guard play. Freshman Britney Cruse and Jennifer Szala will be given the ball handling responsibilities and are eager to prove themselves against the highly competitive GLVC.

Junior Kelsey Bess and sophomore Abigail Gazda bring stability and leadership to the young squad that is looking to rebound.

Other newcomers this season include junior college transfers Elexis Jackson and Tatiana Ortiz who are becoming a consistent addition to the program. The shooting ability of freshmen Brittany Archer and Natalie Applehauns will limit double teams and keep the opposing defense honest.
